STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The reunion of the Lewiston Commandery No. 6 K. T. to Portsmouth, Isle of Shoals, and Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, June 25th and 26th, will take the Knights on a very pleasing crusade.

The Journal says Ida Lyon, Mass., officials apply to the Lewiston police for information concerning three runaway thieves suspected of being in that vicinity. They left Lynn on Thursday last. They are about twenty-five years of age each, and are wanted to answer to serious charges of heavy larcenies. A description of one, John H. Burr, an insane person, who disappeared from Springfield, Mass., early last week, and is supposed to have traveled in that direction, has also been received by the Lewiston police. The description shows a man forty-seven years old, six feet high, weighing 135 pounds; dark hair mixed with gray, and brown side whiskers.

Aroostook.

The Pioneer says a $400 horse belonging to Mr. Powers, of the firm of Beatham & Powers, of Hodgdon, got loose in the stable, Wednesday night of last week, and stuffed itself so full of corn that it died.

Cumberland.

About $5,000 has been collected for the soldiers' monument at Portland.

Joseph Wescott, Esq., father of Ex-Mayor Wescott, was stricken with paralysis, Monday night, and is now dangerously ill at his residence.

James Maloney, chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph Co., of Portland, died of consumption, Tuesday morning. He had been in the Portland office for fifteen years.

The Temperance camp-meeting at Sebago Lake will occur on Saturday and Sunday, August 11th and 12th. This is one week later than usual, and the change is made so as not to interfere with the great union temperance camp-meeting at Maranocook the 28th and 29th, and the W. C. T. U. at Old Orchard the 4th and 5th of August. Childrens' day at Maranocook and Sebago Lake will be like a grand musical festival. Beside the usual exercises of the children, band concerts, etc., there will be selections by Bertha Webb, the girl violinist, Mrs. F. A. Hent, cornetist, and Mrs. Ada Cary Sturgis, contralto.

The Press says it is reported that a man working on Munjoy Hill found a bar a foot or more long that looked like gold. The man cut off a piece of the bar and carried it to an assayer, who assayed it and pronounced it gold of the same fineness as that used by governments in the manufacture of the raw material into ingots. He said it was worth one dollar per pennyweight, and at twenty pennyweights to the ounce was worth $240 a pound. The bar possessed by the man, was weighed in two different jeweler,s scales and weighed twenty-three pounds and six ounces. At the assayer's valuation the bar was worth $5,640. Perhaps it will prove true.

Hancock.

The Journal says, last week Charles L. Stewart, formerly stage driver between Farmington and Augusta, attempted to hang himself in his woodshed in Farmington. His wife discovered him in season to cut him down before he had taken his life. Saturday, however, the unfortunate man was taken to the Insane Hospital by Sheriff Sprague and Adams, of Franklin County.

Oxford.

The commencement of Hebron Academy occurs Friday, June 29, and in connection with the exercises there will be a reunion of all who have been connected with the school, either as officers, teachers or students. The graduation exercises occur at 10 30 A. M., and the reunion proper at 3 P. M. This Academy has been in operation nearly eighty years, and now has many sons and daughters in all parts of the United States, many of whom are prominent in the various walks of life. A large number of the former teachers and students are expected to be present. There will be a poem by Rev. G. M. P. King, of Washington, D. C., and addresses by various gentlemen. Ex Gov. Long, of Massachusetts, has been invited to give the principal address.

Washington.

The Union says four men in two dories came to Cutler, Sunday, P. M.; reported that they were lost from the fishing schooner Helen C. Young, of Deer Island, N. B., on the G. M. banks in the fog, while tending their trawls. The schooner B. C. Young arrived at Cutler and reported the men were lost. The Captain left at once for Jonesport and other points searching for the missing men. When he returned Sunday night he found the men on board and all well.

York.

A falling derrick boom struck Albion Robbins while he was at work on the the water power Saturday forenoon, knocking him to the ground and rendering him insensible, in which condition he remained for nearly half an hour.

The Boston Traveller editorially alludes to the grand pageant made by the great Forepaugh show, in that city, in the following philosophical strain:

"That Boston recognizes the supremacy of the circus was evident from its behavior this morning. State street left its ledgers, Devonshire street deserted its counting rooms, Washington street suspended its shopping, the schools were emptied, and every patriotic man with an intelligent grasp of the situation, formed himself in line on the sidewalk to see Lalla Rookh and the royal Afrieanation go by, while the steam calliope murdered "The Babies on our Block." The gray-bearded banker, the lotterist octogenarian, the stern-featured man of business, the grave divine, and the gay woman of fashion, all crowded to the windows to see the show. And the children, bless their hearts, were as numerous and as enthusiastic as though the lion, the elephant, and the tiger, were just fresh from the hands of their Maker, and they were let out to play with them in the Garden of Eden. After all, perhaps the clew to the perennial success of the circus is here. It touches the spring of immortal youth, and keeps at the centre-ling link between babbling childhood and querulous old age. Yes, you must tell it. The circus comes once a year, and makes us all young again. The band plays, the horses prance, the elephant trudges ponderously along, and for a few brief hours it really seems as though it was the days of our childhood. The same elephants that we babbled with transported us to the days of short frocks and knee-breeches. It is the mirage of childhood. We happy hallucinations which the circus throws on the desert skies of maturer days. We know now that the gilded chariot is not made of gold; that the horses are not Arab steeds; that the women on horseback are not princesses, nor the men princes, and yet we crowd the sidewalk to see them go by, because—well, because it reminds us of the days when we did. And the children at our side, we observe, with thankfulness, are happy with the same old illusions that charmed us. The world is not all hollow, after all, and though the circus has lost a large part of its romance for us, still "the scent of the roses will hang round it still." All Boston, for the next ten days, means to play at being boys and girls again. With Forepaugh on the Coliseum grounds, and the little folks to help out, the experiment can scarcely fail"

Forepaugh will be with us on Saturday, 30th of June.

ISSURANCE COMPANIES.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER.

Orramandel Smith, Esq., in part first of his fifteenth annual report, speaking of Maine Insurance Companies and others doing business in this State, says:

The Maine stock companies received in premiums in 1881, $240,565 13, and paid for losses, $168,113 53, leaving a balance of $72,452 60. In 1882 the same companies received in premiums, $252,534 80, and paid for losses $187,922 57, leaving a balance of $64 602 23—a loss over the previous year of $7,850.37.

The companies of other States and countries received in premiums in this State $779,215 84, and paid for losses $529,788 07, leaving a balance of $249,430.77. In 1882 companies of the same class received in premiums $857,549 61, and paid for losses $625,909 76, leaving a balance of $231,639.85, or a loss of $17,790 92 over 18-1.

As many of the Maine mutual companies have failed to make their returns, a fair comparison between the years 1881 and 1882 of premiums received and losses paid cannot be made.

At the close of the year 1882 there were thirty-three fire, fire marine, and marine insurance companies organized under the laws of this State and authorized to do business therein, of which one was stock fire marine, two were stock marine, one was mutual fire marine and twenty-nine were mutual fire insurance companies.

At the close of the year 1882 there were eighty-nine fire, fire marine and marine insurance companies of other States and countries authorized to transact business in Maine, of which eighty-six were stock and three mutual companies.

The following tables show the Maine fire, fire marine and marine insurance companies authorized to do business at date of this report:

NEW MAGAZINES.

THE JULY CENTURY. The striking portrait of John Brown in the July CENTURY, and Recollections of John Brown's Raid, by ex-Congressman Boteler, of Virginia, who was a spectator of the skirmish at Harper's Ferry and expresses the Southern attitude toward Brown; and Frank B. Sanborn's Comments of a radical Abolitionist on the foregoing, lend unusual interest to the number. The portrait shows John Brown in the prime of life before he grew his patriarchal beard; it is after Woodman's painting, and is engraved by Cole. The widow of John Brown, and John G. Whittier have expressed their satisfaction with the original portrait in notes which are printed in Open Letters of the same number. Another important contribution to the history of the John Brown era is General Stone's paper on Washington on the Eve of the War. This officer, now better known as Stone, Pasha of the Egyptian Army, was a Colonel in the United States Army in 1861, and organized the District of Columbia militia for the defense of the capital. He writes out of his special knowledge of the dangers that threatened the Capital in the few weeks preceding Lincoln's inauguration. The overthrow of the Philadelphia Ring by The Philadelphia Committee of One Hundred affords E. V. Smalley a topic for a short essay on municipal reform.

The literary features of the number are specially noteworthy. Henry James—whose critical essay in the June CENTURY was a surprise to those who supposed his chief strength lay in the direction of novel writing—shows even higher critical ability and raciness as an essayist in a study of Anthony Trollope, which is accompanied by a full-page portrait. James Herbert Morse concludes his discussion of The Native Element in American Fiction, and treats in the July number of the writers who have come up since the war. In Early Letters of Emerson, Emerson's early literary opinions are revealed to an interesting extent in four letters which he wrote soon after leaving college.

Striking Oil, by E. V. Smalley, a profusely illustrated article is a graphic and masterly description of the oil regions and the oil trade, in all their practical phases. George W. Cable concludes his series of illustrated historical papers on Creole life in an article called Flood and Plague in New Orleans, in which he draws a sorry picture of New Orleans in times of the Mississippi's overflow, plague and yellow fever. A full-page engraving of Frans Hal's painting, called The Gipsy, Mrs. Schuyler van Rensselaer. Two illustrated articles of timely interest are Old and New Roses, by H. E. Ellwanger, the well known rose culturist, and a descriptive of the art and sport of Black Bass Fishing, by an experienced writer on the subject, Dr. James A. Henshall, of Kentucky.

Joel Chandler Harris contributes a new batch of his famous negro stories under the title, Nights with Uncle Remus. They will be followed by others in subsequent numbers, the whole being selections from a new Uncle Remus Book. Thomas A. Janvier offers a short romance of Northern Mexico, called The Legend of Padre Jose.

Besides a group of Summer Songs by different writers, the poetry of the number includes E. C. Baker's Farewell to Salvini, which was read at the recent dinner in honor of Salvini, and A Nocturne of Rubenstein, by Miss Helen G. Cone.

Members of the Yale Alumni College Preparatory and the Parent Appointments, The Real Basis of Party Harmony, and The Greatest Need of the Working Classes. Among the Open Letters is an important study of the Immigrant by Dr. George T. Stevens; and Epic Hero, contains a variety of amusing verse.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1883

The Ohio Republican State Central Committee has organized with S O Converse as Chairman and J C. Donaldson as Secretary

Ex-Senator David Davis is now at his home in Bloomington, Ill , looking exceedingly well and devoting seven hours' work a day to his law business and his real estate interests. He will deliver a Fourth of July address at Pekin, Ill , where he lived many years ago.

North Carolina is not a model State in many respects, but they have a summary way of dealing with the Mormon question that is not altogether unsatisfactory Sometime ago a band of Mormons settled within its borders and undertook to propagate their doctrines The people did not wait for the law to take it course but promptly organized a band of mounted men and drove them into the mountains where they are said to be hiding in caves

In the month of May there arrived in the customs districts of Baltimore, Boston, Detroit Huron, Minnesota, New Orleans, New York, Passamaquoddy, Philadelphia and San Francisco, 110 148 passengers, of whom 99 601 were immigrants Of this total number of immigrants, there arrived from England and Wales 13,143, Ireland 15 169 Scotland 4 383, Austria, 1 668, Belgium, 373, Bohemia, 1 404, Denmark 1 743 France, 455, Germany, 29,787, Hungary 806, Italy, 7,276, Netherlands, 1 065 Norway, 4 898, Russia 382, Poland, 183 Sweden, 6,801, Switzerland 1,080, Dominion of Canada 6,022, and from all other countries, 710 The total number of immigrants arrived in the customs districts named from the principal foreign countries in the eleven months ended May 31, 1883 was 517 290, as against 430 636 for the corresponding period of the preceding year

Congressman Holman the Great Objector of Indiana, is a source of much annoyance to his own party His district is a strong y Democrat and it has consequent y many aspirants for Congressional honors But the difficulty is how to get rid of Holman He has occupied the seat so long that he is supposed to have a mortgage on it His rivals have given up hope of dispossessing him unless they can get him nominated for a higher position This accounts, doubtless, for their eagerness to have him made the next candidate of the Democratic party for the Governorship They would even be willing to have him succeed Voorhees in the Senate if there is no other means of getting him out of the way of their aspirations It must be admitted that Holman has the Indiana Democracy in a pretty tight place They must either give him a higher office or he proposes to keep the one he has as long as he desires There are not many small calibre politicians so nicely situated as he

AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS

The compendium of the census of 1880, says the Inter Ocean furnishes the data for obtaining some curious facts relating to agriculture In that year there were 4 008, 907 farms ranging in size from three acres to one thou and and upward, 28,678 of these farms had each 1 000 acres and over The farms of the country averaged 134 acres in size, 71 acres improved and 63 acres unimproved lands Of the whole number of farms one-quarter were from 50 to 100 acres each, and two-fifths of them were from 100 to 080 acres in size These farms were valued at twice as much as the railroads of the country The average value of the farms including lands fences and buildings, was $2 040 The average amount spent upon each farm for fences and repairing fences was less than twenty dollars The average sum spent in purchasing fertilizers was only $7 for each farm The average value of the products of each old consumed, and on hand for the year 879 was only $650 The value of the agricultural implements and machinery owned and in use that year averaged only $100 each The average value of live stock was $370 each

At the time of taking the first census in 1790, seven-eighths of the people of Massachusetts were engaged in agricul ure, but in 1880 less than one-eleventh of them were occupied with that industry. In the great States of New York and Pennsylvania less than one fourth of the persons in all occupations are engaged in farming and in Illinois, the greatest agricultural State of the country, less than one-half of the people are engaged in agriculture. In Massachusetts six times as many people are engaged in manufacturing as in farming

Let us observe what our farms and farmers are annually producing for every man woman and child of the country's population The year 1880 produced for each person thirty bushels of corn, nine bushel of wheat eight bushels of oats, one bushel of barley two-fifths of a bushel of rye one tenth of a bale of cotton, three pounds of wool, two-thirds of a ton of hay, half a pound of hops, two pounds of rice, ten pounds of tobacco, three and a half bushels of Irish potatoes and half a bushel of sweet potatoes

Of animals there was one hog for every person, one horse for every five persons, one mule for every twenty eight persons, one milch cow for every four persons, and two sheep for every three persons. There were fifteen and a half pounds of butter and a half pound of cheese made for each person, and the cows averaged sixty-two and a half pounds of butter each for the year. Although our farm products seem immense in amount it is an astonishing fact that if every acre of Illinois was devoted to wheat for one year and the average yield should be the moderate amount of fifteen bushels to the acre, the crop would exceed in amount the entire wheat crop of the country for last year.

If the State of Missouri was wholly planted with corn, and should give a moderate yield of forty bushels to the acre, the aggregate would equal the entire corn crop of the country for the year 1880. The State of Kansas alone can raise beef enough to feed the present population, of the country. When we have ten times our present population, and when all our lands are as well cultivated as the valley of the Nile, the aggregates of the farm products will be expressed in figures difficult to comprehend. Agriculture is becoming chemistry, and Husbandry is becoming mechanics, so that one good man to-day can do as much work upon a farm as four men did fifty years ago.

Miss Emma Key, eldest daughter of ex-Postmaster General Key, was married at Chattanooga Wednesday night to Hon. W. B. Thompson, Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service.

The Brooklyn Bridge panic may prove an expensive accident to the cities of New York and Brooklyn, and perhaps to the trustees of the bridge. Four injured persons have brought suits to recover $20,000, each, and one woman who lost a daughter, has brought in a suit to recover $5,000 These actions have been entered against the two cities and also against the trustees. The attorney for the plaintiffs claim that the trustees did not perform their duty and are therefore to be held responsible for the accident. One test case will be made and carried directly to the Court of Appeals, upon whom will thus devolve the duty of deciding the much-discussed question of the responsibility for the tragedy

Zebina Eastman, who died last week near Chicago, was one of that remarkable band of men who, in the generation preceding the late war, worked the "underground railroad," by which thousands of men, women and children travelled from slavery to liberty Nearly fifty years ago he was the publisher of a paper in La Salle County, Illinois, under the significant title The Genius of Universal Emancipation Later, when an anti slavery society was formed in Chicago he became the editor of its newspaper organ, The Western Citizen, which was published for ten years This office was the headquarters of the Illinois branch of the underground railroad, and Mr Eastman was a participant in its operations He disagreed with Mr Garrison and others who sought to dissolve the Union to get rid of slavery, and when the Republican party was formed he found a place in its ranks, as did most of the older abolitionists of the West He was a friend of President Lincoln who appointed him consul at Bristol England, a position he held for some years

Thomas L Tullock, Postmaster at Washington, died in Atlantic City, New Jersey Wednesday morning. He was nominated to the position of Postmaster, which he held at the time of his death, by President Arthur, Nov 23, 1882 Mr Tullock had served under his predecessors for some years as the financial clerk of the office and was appointed to succeed Col Alnger, November 25th last. During his short term of office he had continued the improvements in the local mail service which were begun by his predecessor, and he had made many improvements In carrying out his plans he often worked fifteen or sixteen hours a day, and it is likely that overwork contributed to the causes that led to his death. About the middle of March he had an attack of pneumonia which confined him to his house about ten days Upon coming out he had a relapse from which he never fully recovered In April, hoping to be benefited, he went to Wilmington, N C, where he remained a few weeks, but obtained no relief. He then returned and on the 23d of May left for Atlantic City, where, as stated, his death took place. At the time of his death Mrs Tullock and her son Henry were with him

THE CHILDREN'S HOME

The attention of our citizens being called to the matter of making the highway and grounds in front and around the Childrens Home, the following incidents in the early history of the institution may be very appropriately told

Early in the autumn of 1864 Mrs Sarah March, the youthful wife of Franklin W Fitcher finding herself in declining health left the city for a temporary sojourn in Minneapolis While there, in the afternoon of the 3d day of November, 1864, feeling stronger than usual, she asked one of her female friends to note down a few directions which she wished to give respecting the disposition of her property after her death This her friend did on a small sheet of note paper, which is still preserved. After specifying several gifts to her sisters and other friends, she closed with the following "All the rest of my property (excepting what is in F W Fitcher's business and which I wish him to keep for his own individual purposes) I leave in trust with him, to be used for any benevolent or religious purposes that he may think proper" This paper she signed herself and had it witnessed by her sister and two other female friends all three of whom were named in this paper as legatees

Tho' written at her dictation at a time when she was in her then usual condition of declining health, without any anticipation of any immediate change, yet during the same afternoon at evening she died, this being the last act of her life respecting her worldly affairs, The memorandum being thus of no legal force or value her mother sisters and husband, who were the only parties legally entitled to the property at once resolved to carry her wishes into effect, the same as if legally bolden The proper papers were accordingly executed to carry out the wishes of the deceased, as expressed in the note This being done, Mr Fitcher at once set himself at work to select the proper object of his wife's benevolence. After mature consideration, and investigating many plans, in a few months, he concluded to adopt a "Childrens' Home," as the object which would most nearly, as he thought meet the wishes of his departed wife, a "home" for both boys and girls without the "orphan" limitation or the "asylum" stigma. His plan having been made public James Smith, Jr , offered, as a gift, to convey to the institution the lot of land, provided it would be accepted as the location of the building After different ineffectual propositions were made, looking for external aid in the work, Mr Fitcher finally concluded to do the whole himself, and accordingly accepted Mr Smith's offer and at once went to work, and at the expense of about $23,000, constructed the building as it now is. Appropriate exercises were held at the laying of the corner stone, and after the house was fully completed, conveyance of the building was made by Mr. Fitcher Mr. Smith had previously made conveyance of the land, and thus was the title secured to the Corporation, an act fire which, in the meantime, was granted by the Legislature. From the first, the whole has been one continued success, and promises to be such in all coming years. When we reflect upon the vast good which has been effected in saving and aiding in raising up, so large a number of destitute and otherwise unfortunate children, and how this work is to continue through the years and ages it may be, yet to come, we can but bless and almost deify the memory of her, through whose benevolence it has been perfected. But what is most noticeable is the almost accidental fact, that this whole thing should have originated, as it did, in so simple and unpretending manner at a moment which proved to be the last of the benevolent woman's life. Like the almost infinitesimal seed of the elm, how has the mighty tree grown from it with its expansive branches and centuries of life.

The grounds around the "Home" have been thus far very generally neglected in an unfinished state, owing largely to the fault of the City in not placing the street in proper condition. Gen Hersey expended $100 upon them previous to his death, but much more is nessary to be done. When the city does its part, as it is hoped it will soon, Mr. Fitcher proposes to continue the work of improvement.

RUBBER BELTING.
Important to all who use Belting.
We have just patented a new article in Rubber Belting which is sold under the name of GIANT BELTING.
This Belting is put with the usual plies of Duck and Rubber, and before pulcanizing the outside cover it is stitched in seams one inch apart, with cotton cord which has a pulling strength of fifty pounds. Ply then stitched in its plastic state, drawing the plies so close together that with the strong cord with which it is stitched, material strength is added to the belt, and the stitches are so drawn into the pliable rubber, that they cannot wear off on the outside. The outside cover is then put on seamless, so that it cannot open, as is the case of Rubber Belting made in the ordinary way, and the plies being so firmly stitched as well as frictioned together, that the belt cannot separate as many belts made in the ordinary way will, after being used for a time, especially when run at great speed or in damp places.
We particularly call the attention of all mill owners to a belt as being in the end the cheapest belt they can buy, while the first cost is only about ten per cent. more than belting made in the ordinary way We believe it will wear more than double the length of time. For heavy main belts you will find it superior to anything made. It is also superior for Smallest Belts, as we stitch the splice in such a way that it cannot separate
Try our Giant Belts. We will warrant satisfaction.

This cable will be used solely by the company in transmitting messages at cheap rates between this country and Europe. The following directors were elected: Adamson Herd, H. Company, New York; Geo. Haslan the Favorite.

CHICAGO, June 21. Wm. Elliott, of England, and James H. Riley, of Saratoga, oarsmen, have arrived here. The prospects now are that sixteen men will start and while Haslan is the favorite against the field, Hamm, Gaudaur, Lee and Plosmer are dividing the honors for second place.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY.

Centennial Exercises.

EXETER, N. H., June 21. The second day's exercises at Phillips Exeter Academy opened this forenoon with an oration by Rev. Horatio Stebbins, of San Francisco, and a poem by Edward Everett Hale, of Cambridge. At 2 P. M., the procession formed in front of the Town Hall, consisting of the alumni in classes and invited guests, headed by Reeves' Band, and marched to the tent where dinner was served to over one thousand people. Hon. George Bancroft acted as toast-master. Mr. Bancroft offered the toast "The Academy of the Past" which was responded to by Gov. Butler.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Another Unsuccessful Ballot.

CONCORD, June 21. The ballot for U. S. Senator in joint convention resulted as follows:

Whole number cast,	324
Necessary to a choice,	163
Gilman Marston,	11
Aaron F. Stevens,	17
James W. Patterson,	29
James F. Briggs,	29
Henry Bingham,	119
Edward H. Rollins,	113
Benj. Prescott,	2
Scattering,	4

Two pairs were announced. Rollins sustained a net loss of ten from yesterday Patterson gained five, Briggs three, Prescott two. Another vote will not be taken until Tuesday.

A Conference

of Rollins men was held to-night. About 75 were present. Mr. Size, of Portsmouth, presided and speeches were made by Senators Seavey, Larghton and Cummings, Speaker Eastman, Messrs. Quint, Dover, Whitehouse, Rochester, Cutler, Peterboro, and the Chairman. Some expressed a determination to vote for Rollins as long as he desired while others believed in supporting him until it becomes apparent that he cannot be elected. They adjourned to meet Tuesday without taking a vote.

Agricultural Prizes.

HANOVER, June 21. A committee consisting of Hon. Geo. W. Wason, New Boston, and Wm. H. Stimson, Dunbarton, have awarded the prizes offered by Hon. Fred K. Smythe, of Manchester, to members of the Senior class of the New Hampshire College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, as follows: First, twenty dollars, to S. M. Woodward, of Hanover, at ject, "Agricultural Problems of New England;" second, ten dollars, to Elmer D. Kelley, of Franklin Falls, subject, "Mechanical Applications of Electricity."

NEW ENGLAND WOOLEN MILLS.

A Reduction in the Operations.

BOSTON, June 21. The Advertiser, notices on many reports of late of the closing or partial shutting down of a number of New England woolen mills, recently addressed circulars to all manufacturers inquiring as to how they were running or proposed to run. New England, according to the census, has 490 establishments, which operate 2122 sets of cards, or a total of 3061 for the country. The result of the inquiry is in brief that in Massachusetts the curtailment of production amounts to the stoppage of 398 sets; Maine 35 sets; New Hampshire 32; Vermont 18; Rhode Island 138; Connecticut 139; total 759 sets, or more than one-third of the entire capacity, and the total reduction in the consumption of wool will thus amount to 250,700 pounds per day, or about seven millions per month, which would have a serious influence on the wool market.

There are undoubtedly more sets of cards in New England not being operated than here reported, but the replies to the circulars indicate that many woolen mills are shutting down, that the depression in that industry is not idle talk. If a fair proportion of the 260 mills that did not reply to the circular is shut down the reduction in the consumption of wool must represent over 1,000 sets of cards, which would consume about 32,500 pounds daily.

NEW ENGLAND WATER WORKS ASSOCIATION.

Officers Elected.

WORCESTER, June 21. The New England Water Works Association held a second annual meeting here to-day, representatives being present from every New England State, except Vermont. Frank E. Hall, Worcester, was chosen President; Charles K. Walker, Manchester, N. H.; Horace G. Holden, Lowell; Edwin Darling, Pawtucket, R. I., Nathaniel J. Jordan, Abbott, Maine, and S. E. Gruenig, New Haven, Conn., Vice Presidents; E. C. P. Cogswell, of New Bedford, Secretary; Edwin Darling, of Pawtucket, R. I. Treasurer.

REPUBLICAN DEMOCRATS.

Hoadley Nominated for Governor—Summary of the Platform—The Usual Democratic Row.

COLUMBUS, O., June 21. The Democratic State Convention convened at 10 o'clock and not more than half the people could be accommodated in the Opera House. The convention was called to order by Clark Irvine. Reports of the committees appointed last night were heard. All preliminary organization was dispensed with and Hon. John Sweeny, of Wooster, was introduced as the permanent chairman and was received with much enthusiasm. He predicted a Democratic victory, but touched on no issue.

The floor of the Opera House became set overran with spectators that a Sergeant-at-Arms from each district was appointed to get the delegates seated. About half an hour after the business was resumed the convention proceeded to the nomination of Governor. There was great delay in the presentation of names. Efforts were made to proceed to a ballot without the presentation of the names, but after a long wait Senator Thurman crowded on the stage, amid the wildest enthusiasm, and seconded the nomination of Geo. Ward. He warned the convention against tying themselves to any one issue and announced that the party had always been arrayed against sumptuary legislation and should continue in that way.

The names of Hoadley and Geddes were then presented. Trouble was reached on the first ballot when Butler county, which had a divided delegation, was called. It resulted in a call of counties to do away with the unit rule which was carried amid great confusion and showed the strength of the leading candidates to be about even. The ballot was not completed until 1.30 and was as follows:

Hoadley,	290
Ward,	201
Geddes,	77
Denver,	4

Judge Hoadley was nominated for Governor by acclamation, and the committee on resolutions reported. The platform, which was adopted, reaffirms principles of the party as embraced in creed of Jefferson; that we announce our declaration for a staple money, the gradual extinction of the public debt, and the payment of pensions to disabled soldiers, their wives and orphans; that we favor a tariff for revenue limited to the necessities of a Government economically administered and so adjusted in its applications as to prevent unequal burdens, encourage productive interests at home and afford just compensation to labor, but not to create or foster monopolists.

We are opposed to sumptuary legislation and unequal taxation in any form; that we favor regulating liquor traffic by a judicious and properly graded license system; that we are opposed to the present contract system in our State Penitentiary; that we demand a thorough reform and purification of the civil service and charge that the Republican party has violated every pledge it has heretofore given for reform thereof, and has failed during its long administration of the Government to correct even the most crying abuses, and we demand therefore a change in the administration of the Government itself as a reform first of all necessary, as made more manifest by the recent Star Route trials, thereby ousting corrupt rings confederated to protect crime and prevent the punishment of criminals and by so doing to make it possible to again punish fraud and theft in public services.

The convention continued in session without recess at either noon or evening. During the evening session Charles W. Metcalf and Peter Kelly got into a fight with the Hamilton County delegation and the row had to be quelled by the police and the men locked up.

At 11.30 P. M. the convention was still in session with the School Commissioners and members of Board of Public Works to be nominated.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Hill Investigation.

WASHINGTON, June 21.

The Hill investigation was continued to-day Mr. Murch and other witnesses being examined. The committee at 4:30 P. M., adjourned till 10:30 A. M., to-morrow when the Manly Cooper Co., case will be disposed of.

MADISON UNIVERSITY.

Professors Elected—A Magnificent Gift.

HAMILTON, N. Y., June 21. Commencement exercises at Madison University were held to-day. Prof. A. G. Hardness, L. H. D., of Brown University, was elected Professor of Latin and Prof. F. McGregory, of Amherst, Professor of Chemistry. Through the munificence of J. B. Colgate a library building to cost $120,000 will be begun at once. A chemical laboratory to cost $30,000 is also provided for.

A SUDDEN FREAK OF INSANITY.

A Young Man Demands that all Gentlemen Doff their Hats in His Presence.

BOSTON, June 21. Henry H. Wells, of wealthy and respectable parents in Minneapolis, was arrested at the Tremont House this afternoon while acting in an insane manner. He demanded gentlemen to take off their hats to him and threatened to shoot them if they did not comply. A heavy revolver and considerable money were taken from him. His parents have been notified.

The Bath Ship Safe.

BOSTON, June 21. A cable despatch was received to-day announcing the safe arrival of the ship Alice M. Minot, of Bath, Maine, at Kobe (Japan) the 31st of May, after a protracted passage of about 230 days from New York. She encountered rough weather on the passage and had 1,300 cases of oil damaged. She has recently been reported missing.

The Merchant Seamen Act.

WASHINGTON, June 21. The Treasury Department has been advised that the British Government has declared the provisions of the fifth section of the merchant seamen act of 1880 (relating to the payment of wages and rating), shall apply to unauthorized persons going on board American ships, within the limits of British territorial jurisdiction. The section referred to provides that any authorized person who goes on board a ship in a British port without permission of the master, before the seamen can lawfully leave the ship at the end of the engagement or are discharged, or any person being on board remains there after being warned to leave by the proper officer, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding £20, or to imprisonment not exceeding six months.

Among the guests of St. John Commandery are Sir Knight J. O. Shaw, of Bath, Grand Generalissimo, Dr. E. A. Thompson, late of the Governor's Council, and State Liquor Agent Clayton. In the ranks we noticed Mr. Andrews, the popular bandleader, Mr. Hall leading the Bangor Band. It had been the intention of St. Alban to have taken their guests in a moonlight sail, but that, dampening and a low temperature prevented the excursion. As a consequence, Parlor No. 2, at the Falmouth, the ladies' headquarters and rendezvous of Masons, visited the St. John friars, indulging in song and story, and listening to occasional fine music by the band. Some went to the Cliffs and saw the splendid tableaux given by the Commandals, some to the Asylum and witnessed the merry work of one of the base ball games. "FORTITER, FIDELITER, FELICITER."

Graduating Exercises of the Class of '83, Bangor High School—An Exhibition Which Reflects Credit Alike Upon the Participants and Upon Our City Schools—Valuable Presentation to the Retiring Principal.

The class of '83, of the Bangor High School, after passing through the various stages of Primary, Intermediate, Grammar and High Schools, found themselves last evening at that goal to which the pupil looks forward with the highest anticipation—Graduation.

City Hall was at an early hour last evening a mecca to which large numbers of our people journeyed. Admission was gained up to 7.30 o'clock, only by the presentation of tickets, which had been issued in limited numbers by officers of the school and members of the class, and when this limitation was withdrawn the hundreds who were in waiting availed themselves of the opportunity to gain entrance. At the opening of the exhibition not only was every seat in the body of the auditorium and galleries occupied but all available standing place was taken up and there were many who were not able to enter the hall at all.

About 7.30 o'clock, the class of '83, comprising twenty-seven young ladies and four young gentlemen, marched on the platform and took seats reserved for them. The young ladies were arrayed in light and handsome costumes, presenting a very pretty scene on the stage. Also occupying seats on the platform were observed Principal Jordan and his corps of assistant teachers, members of the School Committee and also the City Committee on Schools, Mayor Cummings and members of both branches of the City Government, Rev. F. T. Hazlewood and others.

THE FLORAL DECORATIONS were extremely profuse and attracted universal attention. With rare taste and great labor the appearance of the hall had been so transformed that it would hardly be recognized. The wall to the rear of the stage was covered with the class motto, "Fortiter, Fideliter, Feliciter" in letters of evergreen gracefully arranged in arched form. Above this motto was an artistic floral horseshoe and beneath the motto were vases of flowers. Pendent from the ceiling directly over the front of the stage was a mass of beautiful flowers. Along the front of the stage, at short intervals, were little bunches of daisies and ferns. To the right on a stand, were beheld the diplomas standing in the midst of a profusion of magnificent flowers. Further to the right was a large and very elegant cross of daisies with the figures '83 showing in purple pansies against the background of white. By the side of this floral cross was an anchor of similar flowers. To the extreme right was a stand on which were large and elegant vases filled with choice and brilliant flowers. To the left of the stage stood a pretty harp of daisies, and to the extreme left a stand on which were vases of charming flowers. Standing on the piano in front of the stage was a floral star. The front of the galleries were draped with festoons of red, white and blue bunting, while the iron supports extending from the gallery front to the ceiling were wound with evergreen and flowers. Upon the sides of the galleries were brackets with vases of flowers and suspended from the ceiling in the centre of the hall near the entrance was observed a floral bell of daisies. The elaborate decorations were greatly admired and a noticeable feature of the attractive display was the combination of wild and cultivated flowers.

AWARDING OF DIPLOMAS.

CLASS HYMN.

Music—MAE SILSBY. Words—ANNIE M. REED.

Up pathways of knowledge together we've toiled,
By kind, patient Teachers oft cheered on our way;
But now we are leaving our school life behind,
And Teachers and scholars are parting to-day.

Though Time's restless hours we ne'er can recall,
To gather and clasp our lost moments again;
Yet the task we've accomplished remaineth for aye,
For storing our minds is not labor in vain.

To-night as we part, with the deepest regret
We turn from these scenes that we all love so well;
And now as we think of the days that are past,
We grieve as we linger to utter farewell.

And when our life's wearisome hill, sunset dims
Give promise of glory beyond earthly strife,
At Heaven's Pearly Gate we will greet our Lord
A victor's bright crown, the reward of this life.

The exercises opened with a prayer by Rev. F. T. Hazlewood. The High School Orchestra followed with a brilliant overture, "Hope of Alsace." Miss Lucy H. Crosby delivered the salutatory in a clear voice and graceful manner, reading in part as follows:

"Fellow Classmates, Ladies and Gentlemen: Before the class of '83 shall have passed from the halls of learning, and from the influence of those who have labored so faithfully for our welfare, it is fitting that we should express our appreciation of the kindness and interest which they have manifested in our behalf. Especially do we feel grateful to our principal, Mr. Jordan, who has been with us from the beginning of our course, and who has always been ready to assist us in our studies, and to encourage us in our efforts. We also feel grateful to the other teachers who have labored with us, and to the members of the School Committee, who have shown their interest in us by frequent visits to the school. We are glad to see so many of our friends present this evening, and we hope that they will enjoy the exercises which we have prepared for their entertainment. We have chosen for our motto, 'Fortiter, Fideliter, Feliciter,' which we have endeavored to follow in our school life, and which we hope to follow in the future. We have chosen for our class flower the daisy, which is the emblem of purity, innocence and simplicity. We have chosen for our class colors, purple and white, which are the colors of the Bangor High School. We have chosen for our class yell, 'Rah, rah, rah, Bangor High, Rah, rah, rah, '83.' We have chosen for our class song, 'Auld Lang Syne.' We have chosen for our class motto, 'Fortiter, Fideliter, Feliciter.' Fortiter, because we have endeavored to be brave in the face of difficulties; Fideliter, because we have endeavored to be faithful in the performance of our duties; Feliciter, because we have endeavored to be happy in the enjoyment of our pleasures. We have endeavored to be brave, faithful and happy, and we hope that we have succeeded in some degree

Agricultural.

It is essential to success with Paris green for potato bugs or other pests that it be pure. Much that is offered at reduced rates is adulterated and dear at any price, as it cannot be depended upon.

During the seasons for gunning and fishing, the farmer should keep notices posted, warning off all trespassers, if he does not like to have grass and grain trampled down, fences broken, stone walls upset, and cows and colts filled with shot.

One of the best manures for the potato crop is a dressing of salt at the rate of one or two bushels per acre. Properly speaking, salt is not a manure, but it makes available the fertility lying dormant in the soil. Salt also assists in keeping the soil moist, and will not only increase the quantity, but improve the quality of the crop.

The crop prospects for the current year are now brilliant beyond expectation. The deficit in winter wheat promises to be more than made up by the increased acreage of spring wheat and substitute grains. Corn is coming forward rapidly, particularly in those sections where the backward spring and wet weather delayed the start.

The development of American agriculture is unequalled in the history of any other nation. The wheat acreage of the United States has increased from 21,000 000 acres in 1871 to 38,000 000 in 1881, and the corn acreage during the same period from 33 000,000 acres to 64,000,000. Cotton has doubled, the crop of 1871 being 3,000 000 bales, against 6,000,000 in 1881.

Farmers will weigh their milk every day as it is drawn from each cow, and test the cream from each cow separately about once a month to ascertain how much butter it will make. They can tell very nearly which cows are the most profitable, and if any do not give satisfactory results, feed them with grain until they give profitable returns, or until the butcher is ready for them.

Take your hoes to the grindstone every morning when they are in use, and make an edge on them that will cut a weed root easily. It may oblige you to buy a new set of hoes next spring, but that will not cost more than seventy-five cents, and two men with sharp hoes are worth as much as three men with those that are as "dull as a hoe," so it will require but a few days to pay for the new hoe.

It is a common fault with many amateur gardeners that they attempt to raise too many kinds of ornamental plants. They are attracted by the pleasing descriptions in seed catalogues, and order fifteen or twenty species of plants which they have never tried before. They are most always sure to be disappointed in a good part of them from their own lack of time and knowledge in managing them. To get the most enjoyment from flowers they should give as little anxiety as possible. It is wiser to learn to cultivate one plant well than to half grow a dozen different kinds. Try only two or three new sorts each year, and get well acquainted with them before trying other sorts.

THE DUTIES OF A PATRON OF HUSBANDRY.

A correspondent of the Cultivator says: When a farmer asked to connect himself with a Grange, if he is a thoughtful, careful man, who "looks before he leaps," who does not desire to assume any obligations without a full knowledge of the duties then may entail upon him, one of his first questions is apt to be, "What will you expect of me if I join the Order? What are the duties of a member?"

In reply, I may say in behalf of the Order, We expect you to pay your dues to the Grange punctually, for unless the finances are in a prosperous condition we cannot pay rent, supply fuel and lights, stationery and defray all the other expenses necessary to give us a pleasant and attractive place of meeting. We expect you to attend regularly our stated meetings, unless prevented by circumstances beyond your control, for a full and regular attendance of the members not only indicates an interest in the welfare of the Order, but assists greatly in keeping up the interest. When only two or three meet together the duties which they have to perform are arduous, there is not the stimulus of thought against thought and mind against mind which exists in larger gatherings, and hence such meetings become dull, stale and unprofitable," to a great extent.

We expect you to be ever ready to contribute your part toward making the meetings pleasant, social, interesting and instructive. In the intervals between our seasons of gathering together you should keep your eyes open and your mind active, in search alike for information which you may desire, and knowledge which you may gain and impart, for subjects of thought and matters of interest to your brother patrons and to all interested in agricultural pursuits, and when the stated time of our evening comes around be ready both to give and receive information.

In the Grange you will be expected to be subordinate to the officers chosen to preside over it and execute its duties, to be ever courteous in debate and to be ambitious to excel others, and obtain office only when you may serve the best interests of the Order by so doing, to lay aside all personal prejudices and animosities and all selfish motives, and to be willing to act the part of a brother towards all patrons. Outside of the Grange we desire that you shall show "malice toward none and charity toward all," and to so deal with all with whom you may have business transactions as to win respect for yourself and for all the members of the Order.

It will ever be found that the member who best fulfills these duties, and most faithfully tries to serve others rather than himself, will be the one most benefited by the prosperity of the Order, for, as it is our aim to elevate the character and condition of the farmer, no man can labor for that purpose without elevating himself, any more than he could be a faithful teacher without finding each day his knowledge increasing while imparting information to others.

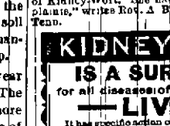
SAMARITAN NERVINE

NEVER FAILS.



"You claim too much for SAMARITAN NERVINE," I say so myself. How can one medicine be a specific for Epilepsy, Dyspepsia, Alcoholism, Opium Eating, Rheumatism, and fifty other complaints? We claim it a specific, simply because the virus of all diseases arises from the blood. Samaritan Nervine, Alterative and Laxative properties meet all its conditions therein referred to. It works from crown to toe.

THE GREAT

NERVE CONQUEROR

It acts and completes the patient—not by the introduction of opiates and drastic cathartics, but by the restoration of natural tone to the stomach and nervous system whereby the brain is relieved of most if not all the load which are created by the causes above referred to.

To Clergymen, Lawyers, Literary men, Merchants Bankers, Ladies and all those whose sedentary employment causes nervous prostration, irregularities of the blood, stomach, bowels or kidneys, Samaritan Nervine is unrivalled. Those and no other claim it. It stands to-day as it always will stand, at the head of the list, the prince of nerve tonics, the only one that can lay claim to the thinking person's support. THE

6 Per Ct. Gold Bonds

OF THE

TOPEKA, SALINA AND WESTERN R. R.

The syndicate of Boston and New York capitalists interested in the building of this road having paid in the full amount subscribed, the work will be pushed forward with all possible speed. The road runs from Topeka to Lehi, 187 miles, through the great wheat belt of Kansas, a country without adequate railroad facilities, and where a large amount of business is waiting for direct communication with the markets of the South and East.

$150,000 in cash will be expended for equipment to be placed on the road during the construction of the line, and $400,000 in bonds and $500,000 in stock will remain in the treasury when the road is completed, and will be used for additional equipment and improvements.

For $80.00 and accrued interest from Jan 1, 1883, five shares of stock, par value $100 each, and a $1,000 bond will be given, the latter bearing interest from Jan 1, 1883. The price will be advanced from time to time as the building of the road progresses.

The proceeds from the sale of bonds will be deposited with Tower, Giddings & Co of Boston, for account of Post, Martin & Co, New York, who are the fiscal agents for the syndicate.

Money to pay the interest on all sold bonds, up to and including July 1, 1884, will be deposited in trust in a national bank in Boston.

These bonds are worthy the attention of careful and prudent investors. Full information furnished on application to is the first preparation perfectly adapted to cure diseases of the scalp, and the first successful restorer of faded or gray hair to its natural color, growth and youthful beauty. It has had many imitators, but none have so fully met all the requirements needful for the proper treatment of the hair and scalp. HALL'S HAIR RENEWER has steadily grown in favor, and spread its fame and usefulness to every quarter of the globe. Its unparalleled success can be attributed to but one cause, the entire fulfillment of its promises.

HALL'S

The proprietors have often been surprised at the receipts of orders from remote countries, where they had never made one effort for its introduction.

The use for a short time of HALL'S HAIR RENEWER wonderfully improves the personal appearance. It cleanses the scalp from all impurities, cures all humors, fevers and dryness, and thus prevents baldness. It stimulates the weakened glands, and enables them to push forward a new and vigorous growth. The effects of this article are not transient, like those of alcoholic preparations, but remain a long time, which makes its use a matter of economy.

PLAIN WORDS

Are Best to Express the Suffering so Long Endured by a most Excellent Lady, Mrs. G. Fisher, 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. Her Kind and Grateful Expression towards the Means that Afforded Relief.

Facts clothed in plain words are best. Mrs. George Fisher lives in a pleasant cottage at 29 Clark St., New Haven, Conn. She says: "I was a terrible sufferer from Liver disease, for a period of twelve years. My family physician told me that it was chronic inflammation of the Liver. I tried a great many remedies recommended for liver difficulties. I was under the physician's care a great deal but could get no relief, until I began taking Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY. I experienced relief at once, and to-day I'm enjoying good health through the use of this. I had also been a great sufferer from rheumatism in my limbs and shoulders, but I have been cured entirely through the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. I consider Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY a most excellent medicine. I know of many in this city who have received great benefit from the use of FAVORITE REMEDY. It is, in fact, a good medicine. I know it, for I've tried it."

Mrs Fisher is a lady of character and means what she says.

Such testimonials are common. Dr. Kennedy is daily in receipt of letters from them expressing similar sentiments. These letters are spontaneous and pen in all varieties of phraseology, but invariably setting forth in one thing alone the value of Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY for many forms of disease. It may be just the thing you have been looking for. Is your liver disordered? Have you symptoms of the Kidneys or Bladder associated with Constipation of the Bowels? If so, you want Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Dr. Kennedy practises medicine and surgery in all its branches. Write him, giving your case frankly. Letters promptly answered. Address Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. d&w1m jel

Rev. Father Wilds'

EXPERIENCE.

The Rev. Z. P. Wilds, well-known city missionary in New York, and brother of the late eminent Judge Wilds, of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, writes as follows:

"76 A. 54th St., New York, May 16, 1882

Messrs. J. C. AYER & Co., Gentlemen:

Last winter I was troubled with a most uncomfortable itching humor affecting more especially my limbs (which itched so intolerably at night, as to burn it so intensely that I could scarcely bear it), causing me to scratch until the blood flowed from the parts, and a dry, hacking cough; my appetite was poor, and my system in a bad condition. Knowing the value of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by observation of many other cases and from personal use in former years I began taking it for the above-named disorders. My appetite improved almost from the first dose. After a short time the fever and itching were allayed, and all signs of irritation of the skin disappeared. My catarrh and cough were also cured by the same means, and my general health greatly improved, and it is now excellent. I feel a hundred per cent stronger, and I attribute these results to the use of the SARSAPARILLA, which I recommend with all confidence as the best blood medicine ever devised. I took it in small doses three times a day, and used, in all, less than two bottles. I gladly make the facts known for your service, hoping their publication may be good.

Yours respectfully, Z. P. WILDS."
